Veteran financial advisor Scott Cheney founded Twin Peaks Wealth Management to deliver the highest level of personal, conflict-free guidance within relationships based on trust.

He has earned multiple professional designations that are highly respected within the industry:

- Certified Financial Planner™
- Chartered Financial Consultant®
- Chartered Life Underwriter®
- Chartered Advisor for Senior Living®

Scott is driven by a sincere desire to help individuals and families reach their goals and achieve peace of mind. He's had the privilege of doing so for more than a decade. Prior to founding Twin Peaks, he enjoyed a long tenure at a large, well-respected financial firm in the Salt Lake City area. He has also served as an adjunct faculty member at the University of Utah's David Eccles School of Business.

When not serving clients, Scott enjoys spending time with wife Laura and son Dylan. His interests include skiing, biking, golfing, windsurfing, hiking, and live music.
